Living with disabilities in every day society

“What I find to be the most disabling for me are the barriers and structures in society. Things like a long flight of stairs and no ramps or stigmas in people’s minds are the real disabling factors.”

- Jessica Benham, MA
Doctoral Student, Communication
Masters Student, Bioethics

INCLUSION STRENGTHENS OUR UNIVERSITY